HARRY THAW MURDERS HIS WIFE'S ADMIRER

NEW YORK STIRRED BY A TRAGEDY IN HIGH LIFE

Stanford White, the Victim, Was a Leading American Architect

IS SLAIN IN MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

"You Have Ruined Me", Husband of Actress Evelyn Nesbit is Said to Have Said as he Fired--- Murderer in Tombs Today

NEW YORK, June 26.—Harry K. Thaw, a young Pittsburg millionaire, last night shot and killed Stanford White, one of the best known architects in the world and designer of the Madison Square garden, Trinity church in Boston and hundreds of buildings and bases for statues in the United States and Europe.

Singularly enough the crime was committed on the roof of Madison Square garden in the roof garden theater there. A large audience of women and men were thrown into a panic that it appeared for a time would result disastrously.

It was just before the close of the performance that the tragedy took place. Stanford White, who had entered the playhouse somewhat late, was sitting alone at a table in the rear, and did not seem to have a friend in the place. He was known to some of the attaches who nodded to him as they passed.

Trouble Over Mrs. Thaw.

About 10:19 Harry Thaw entered the theater and stood for a few minutes, looking toward the stage. He then looked about him, and suddenly he seemed to spy White. In a moment his expression changed and he walked toward the architect.

As he reached the table he said something, just what, will likely never be known, although there are many rumors as to his exact words. One report had it that he said:

"You will not bother my wife any more."

Another had it that he said:

"You have ruined my life.'

Still a third rumor had it that he challenged White to fight him.

His next act was most expressive. Suddenly whipping out a big revolver from his pocket he fired fwo shots at White, so close was he that the powder from his pistol burned the architect's flesh.

Two Bullets in Head.

One bullet behind the side of the head directly behind the left ear. The second passed into the head just above the first. With a moan White sank to the floor, and as he did so Thaw fired another shot into his back. He then thrust the revolver into his pocket and staretd across the theater. Before he had taken more than a dozen steps a special officer of the theater and the fireman detailed there had him by the arms.

Panic in Theater.

A panic followed the shooting and in an effort to quell the disturbance the manager of the playhouse ordered the chorus girls to the front of the stage to sing. This helped restore order.

Wife Embraces Him.

As the policeman and fireman with their prisoner between them reacehd the street, Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, wife of the prisoner, rushed up to him, threw her arms about his neck and kised him, shouting:

"I love you, Harry, and I will stand by you, you know I will, don't you."

The officers pushed her away and she disappeared in the rapidly gathering crowd.

Thaw waled between the two officers to the West Thirtieth street station, calmly smoking a cigarette. Arriving there he was arraigned before the desk and formally charged with murder. The station was cleared and Thaw was asked his name. He said. "I am John Smith of 180 Lafayette square, Washington, D. C. I am a student."

He would say nothing further and was locked up.

Had Quarreled With White.

New York, June 26.—When Harry Kendall Thaw was arraigned this morning accused of the murder last night, of Stanford White Stillmore, he was in bedraggled evening clothes.

The police searched unsuccessfully all night for his wife.

It develops that Thaw and White were together in Burns' restaurant at Sixth avenue and Forty-third street Sunday night in earnest conversation until 2:30 Monday morning.

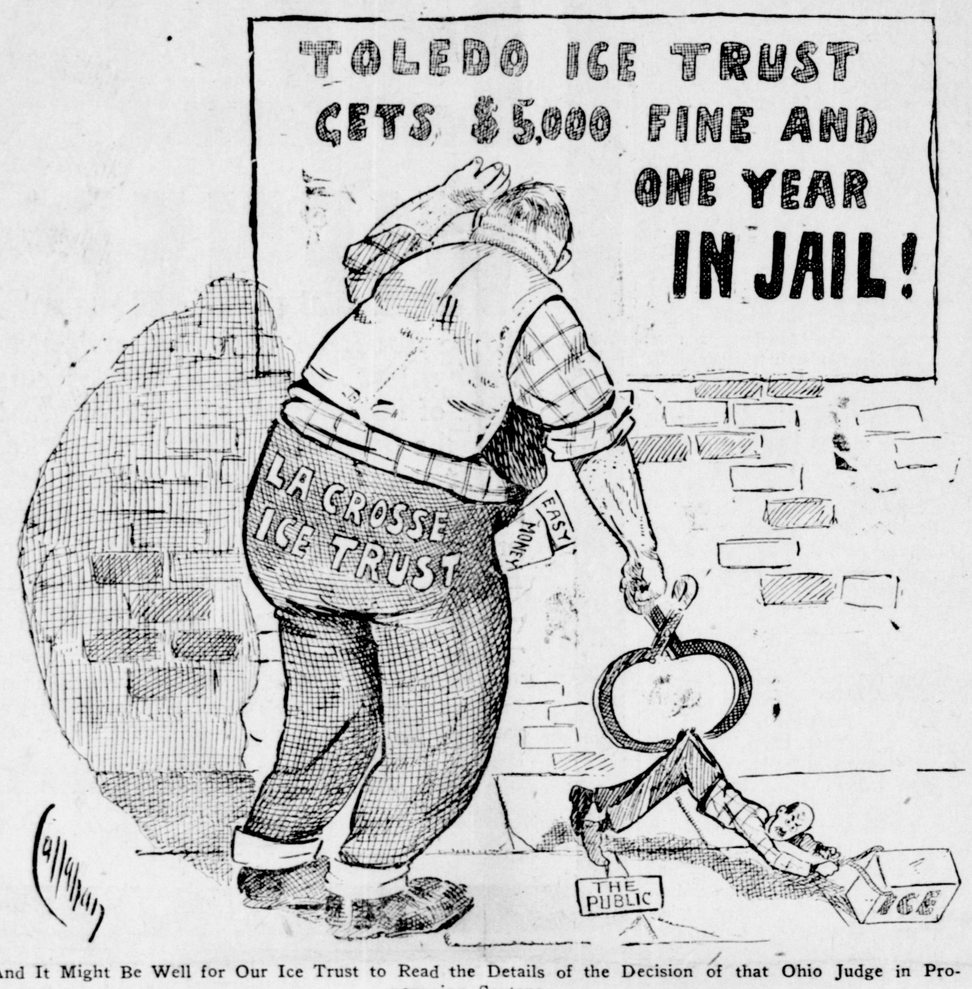

The past relations of White and Evelyn Nesbitt are the cause of Thaw's hatred. He will enter a plea of emotional insanity.

Thaw was measured and photographed this morning for the Rogues' gallery, and was forced through a routine through which all of the prisoners must pass.

Dan O'Reilly was engaged to de-

RAWLINSON GOES TO SEA GRIT, N. J.

State Team Will be Selected in Different Manner This Year

Captain Charles M. Rawlinson of Company M has been selected by Adjutant General C. R. Boardman of the Wisconsin National Guard, as team coach at the national match at Sea Girt, N. J., commencing Sept. 4. Captain Rawlinson received notice this morning.

The order recites that the camp for the state rifle competition for the selection of the state team will be held at Camp Douglas Aug. 6 to 11.

A new method of selecting the team to represent Wisconsin at Sea Girt has been adopted this year.

Says the order:

"The ten men making the state team for 1906, together with the next five high scores at the state competition, will constitute the state team of twelve principals and three alternates to represent the state at the national match to be held at Sea Girt, N. J., commencing Sept. 4, 1906."

Heretofore only the ten on the team went to Sea Girt.

TRAMP INSANE

John Hougan, believed to be a tramp, was examined for his sanity by Drs. Powell and Morrison this afternoon under direction of the county court and adjudged insane.

Hougan was picked up this morning by Captain Parks and taken to the police station where he created a disturbance and his examination followed.

Frank Dumke of Hokah, is visiting friends.

ED CONNERS WILL GET "HIS" LATER

Defendant's Attorney Convinces Running From Jail is Punishable

The case of Ed Conners, charged with running away from the jail yard was taken up again by Judge Brindley this morning, after adjournment from yesterday afternoon and was again put off until next Saturday.

During the night District Attorney Bosshard discovered sufficient evidence to prove that running away from jail was punishable by imprisonment. Attorney Mahoney for the defendant has claimed there was no statute under which the offense was punishable. Previous convictions were cited and Attorney Mahoney asked until Saturday to look up the matter further.

NO CHANGES IN LA CROSSE TEAM

President Elliott Denies Rumors That Killian is to be Released

President John Elliott of the La Crosse Baseball association this afternoon denied that any shanges were contemplated on the La Crosse team, denying especiaiiy the rumor that Killian was to be supplanted by a new catcher.

Killian has always been considered a star catcher, but he has been worked to death, playing every game, and catching every wild pitcher on the team until his hands are badly battered. For this reason his work of late has not been considered just as good as it used to be. It is possible Killian will be permitted to rest up for a week to get back into his old fine shape.

Mr. Elliott also denied that the team contemplated acquiring Karnell, Wausau's catcher. It is understood, however, that Wausau is seeking a new catcher.

VOTES OF HUNDREDS AFFECTED

Foreigners Must be Full Citizens

2ND PAPERS OR NO VOTE

New Law Effective July 1st. When Second Papers Will Cost $7.00

Political calculations will be shattered by the operation of a new law, governing admission to citizenship and the voting of citizens, which Clerk of the Court George Wright says will go into effect July 1.

After that date it will cost foreign residents who have taken out their first papers only, seven dollars, to secure their seocnd papers, entitling them to citizenship.

Without their second papers no foreign born resident can vote.

This will effect a couple of thousand voters in La Crosse county as there are fully that number of foreign born residents who have taken out only their first citizenship papers.

This portion of the new law, however, will not become operative until 1908, so that it will have no bearing upon the coming county or next spring's city election.

WATERING MILK IS EXPENSIVE

FarmersPay$54.44 for the Trick

SAY "THE OTHERS DO IT"

But Inspector Larson of Holmen did not Find Water Elsewhere

F. Kaiser and L. Newburg, farmers, are convinced that it does not pay to water milk.

Upon telephone information that they were wanted by the court from Undersheriff William Scott the men drove in from their homes in the town of Washington this morning to answer a charge made by Deputy State Dairy and Food Inspector Hugo Hanson of Holmen, to watering milk delivered to the Middle Ridge creamery.

They reluctantly pleaded guilty to the offense, but declared all the other farmers in the vicinity "did the same thing."

However, Inspector Larson has not discovered other watered milk, though he tested all brought to the creamery.

Judge Brindley fined the culprits $25 each and costs, totaling $54.44.

The fine was paid.

TIRES OF LIFE WITHOUT HIS WIFE

Gene Hickey Hangs Himself to Bedpost by Strap and Strangles

Gene Hickey, 914 Market street, committed suicide last night by hanging himself.

William Farley, a stepson of the deceased, found the body last night at 6:30. As the body was cold when found the deed must have been committed early yesterday morning.

The man was missed last night and upon investigation the door of Hickey's room was found to be locked. Not wanting to break in the door, Wil Farley placed a ladder against the window and saw the lifeless body in a sitting posture. Entrance was effected by the police who notified District Attorney Otto Bosshard.

The body was taken to Miller Brothers' morgue.

Hickey fastened one end of a strap to his neck and the other end to the bedpost.

As he kneeled the weight of his body fell upon his neck and strangled him.

Temporary insanity is supposed to be the cause. Since the death of his wife Nov. 9, 1905, Hickey has been despondent.

Two sons, Ed and Frank Hickey, and two stepsons, John and Will Farley, survive.

The arrangements for the funeral have not as yet been made.

As the police are confident of the manner in which he met his death no inquest will be held.

Hickey was about 55 years of age and for some years had been in the cement sidewalk business. He was for some years coachman for Mrs. Mary Austin. Hickey came to La Crosse county with his parents when he was 5 years of age and located at Bangor. In the old days he had a record of being the fastest hand binder in this section of the ocuntry.

DOWIE WOULON'T LET HIS SUBJECTS MARRY WITHOUT CONSULTING HIM AS TO "CONTAMINATION"

CHICAGO, Ill., June 26.—That Dowie exercised control over even the marriages of members of the Christian church was declared by Deacon Judd testifying in federal court this morning.

He said Dowie would not permit any member to marry without his consent as he wished to prevent "contamination" by marriage with outside sinners." He said he, F. W. Cotton, Overseer Speicher and others were punished for marrying according to their own inclinations.

A discrepancy of $200,000, expained as a "bookkeeper's error," is the subject of the court's inquiry this afternoon.

MARTIN BATES IS POOR ONE DAY; RICH THE NEXT

FINDER OF GREAT PEARL IN LA CROSSE

Martin Bates, who a few days ago found a pearl at Red Wing believed to be the largest in the world, and for which he will get at least $25,000 passed through this city Saturday night on his way home to Red Wing after having turned his valuoble pearl over to a Commanche (Iowa) pearl buyer, who has already left for New York with the gem. In place of the pearl Mr. Bates now has a draft for $5,000 and the Iowa pearl buyer will place the pearl on the New York markets as soon as he can arrive there.

Five thousand dolars is by no means what the handsome pearl is worth but Mr. Bates says that he cannot place any value on the gem as it is so much larger and more perfect than any pearl he has ever seen before and he has found hundreds of them and is classed as a first class pearl expert.

The pearl is perhaps worth from $75,000 to $100,00 and it cannot be sold on the New York market for less than $25,000 acording to the contract that Mr. Bates has legally entered into with the Iowa pearl buyer, Mr. Bates is to receive his share of the sale in addition to the $5,000 that he has already received, at least $20,000.

Mr. Bates is a most intelligent talker and in conversation with a representative of the Tribune he told the story of the finding of the pearl in an interesting manner.

It seems that Mr. Bates has several clammers working for him in the vicinity of Red Wing. A few days ago one of the men brought in a small load of shells and Mr. Bates paid him 75 cents for the lot. The shells were taken form the boat and placed on the ground near the Bates hut and remained there until last Saturday when Mrs. Bates advised her husband to look them over before they began to to spoil.

Mr. Bates accordingly put them through the warming process and turned them out onto the table and began prying the shells open. Imbedded deep in the meat of one of the smallest of the shells the handsome large eighty-five grain pearl was found. It was perfectly round and is white with a beautiful sky blue lustre.

Mr. Bates says that the shell from which the pearl was taken was not much larger than a half dollar and that it could not have been over a year and a half old. He says that the shell was taken from the sand at a point where a genuine clammer would never think of dragging for shells.

A number of La Crosse people are acquainted with Mr. Bates and he is well known at all points along the river between La Crosse and Guttenburg, Iowa, his former home. Last season Mr. Bates was clamming for several weeks in the vicinity of Homer. He has made several good finds of pearls before and at one time received $1,100 for a fine pearl which he found near Lansing.

MOUNDS IN SAUK CO. DESCRIBED

(Special Tribune Dispatch.)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 26.—Those of our citizens who are interested in the desired preservation or in the study of Wisconsin's records of the past will find "The Summary of the Archeology of Eastern Sauk County," now being published by the Wisconsin Archeological society, of unusual value and interest. This notable publication, which represents two years of research and survey work on the part of Prof. A. B. Stout of Baraboo, vice president of the society, contains ful descriptions of all of the large number of conical, effigy and linear mounds, inclosures, village and workshop sites, planting grounds, provision cashes, graves and trails in one of the richest parts of Wisconsin. During that period of time nearly 800 mounds were located in the region of the Baraboo and Wisconsin rivers by Mr. Stout and his assistants. A number of these were carefully explored, with results of scientific interest.

Preparations are now being made for an assembly of the Fox River valley members of the society, which will be held at Menasha on Sept. 3 and 4.

The session will be devoted to addresses by city officials and leading members of the society and to personally conducted pilgrimages to the historic and prehistoric sites and monuments in the neighborhood. Bishop J. J. Fox of Green Bay, Dr. Samuel Plantz of Lawrence university, the Rev. S. T. Kidder of Ripon college, and G. A. West of Milwaukee, will be among the prominent speakers. Vice President P. V. Lawson of Menasha and a local committee will be in charge of the local arrangements. ued by the society and its members in many parts of the state. Curator Brown and party will spend Sunday upon the Kenosha Indian village sites, where there yet remains much of interest to archeologists.

RIPON COLLEGE DENIES IT HAS BEEN GRAFTING ON MR. CARNEGIE

RIPON, Wis., June 26.—A sensational attack has ben made on Ripon college, Princeton, Yale and Lafayette by the Baptist Standard, the official New York publication of the Baptist church, charging these four institutions with grafting in securing money from Andrew Carnegie. The charge is entirely refuted by Ripon college authorities, who produce authorities to prove their statements, and the other institutions accused are expected to soon issue denials.

The charge in substance is that Ripon with the other three universities, secured money from Carnegie under the plea that it was not a denominational school. The Baptist Standard, however, declares that Ripon is an official Congregational institution, and the editorial in which the grafting charge is made is a savage attack on the alleged methods of this church in thus securing money for a college of its sect. The editorial was brought out by the announcement that two Ripon college professors had been awarded Carnegie fund pensions.

The refutation of this grafting charge produced by the Ripon college authorities is in the records of the institution, which show that in 1866, forty years ago, the college was formally released from ecclesiastical control.

It no longer is an official institution of the Congregational church, and, as a matter of fact, has nearly as many Presbyterians as Congregationalists on its board of trustees.

The following resolutions were passed in 1866 when the Winnebago district convention of Presbyterian and Congregational churches withdrew from control of Ripon college:

"That as the reasons why it has hitherto been important that the convention should control the election of trustees have ceased, and it is now essential to the prosperity and progress of the college, and especially essential to the obtaining the aid of the Western College society that it should be free from ecclesiastical control; this convention hereby relinquishes all claim to the right of nominating trustees to fill vacancies in the board of trustees.

"That this action is not intended to detach the college from the interest, influence, and sympathy of this convention, or of our churches; but on the contrary, it is intended to remove obstacles in the way of its growth; and to engage our churches more earnestly in building it up and to secure the confidence and co-operation of our brethren in other parts of the west and at the east.

"That the present trustees are the nominees of this convention, and, confiding in them as Christian gentlemen, we commit the interests of the institution wholly to their care, with the assurance that in the future, as in the past, they will maintain the integrity of their trusts."

The same step taken by Ripon forty years ago has recently been taken by many other churches institutions, the most notable example in this state being Lawrence university, which ceased to be a Methodist institution two years ago, and thus made itself also eligible to share in the Carnegie fund. Colleges all over the country are hastening to take this step, but Dr. Hughes, president of Ripon, said today that the sigling out of Ripon by the Baptist publication was a mistake, particularly as Ripon had been independent of ecclesiastical control for forty years, though it has always been recognized as a Christian college, and with a large proportion of Congregational students.

S.S.S. EXPELS BLOOD HUMORS

Itching, disfiguring eruptions, rashes, boils, etc., as well as pimples, black-heads and rough, scaly skins, show the presence of some irritating humor in the blood. These acids and humors with which the blood is filled are being constantly thrown off through the pores and glands, and the skin is kept in a feverish, diseased and unsightly condition. Nothing applied externally can change the condition of the blood or prevent the outflow of poisons and acids; only constitutional treatment can do this. The countless washes, salves, lotions, etc., that are used cannot reach the humor-laden blood and are, therefore, useless, except for the temporary comfort and cleanliness they afford. The acid poison in the blood, which is the cause of the trouble, must be removed before a cure can be effected. S. S. S. is a real blood purifier, possessing all the requirements to neutralize and remove the humor from the circulation. It completely eradicates every trace of the poison and restores this vital fluid to its natural state of purity S. S. S. cools the acid-heated blood so that instead of pouring out acrid matter on the skin it feeds and nourishes it with health-sustaining properties, and the eruptions and diseases of the skin pass away. Book on Skin Diseases and medical advice free.

STATE GEOLOGICAL SURVEY SECURES AID OF POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT

The State Geological Survey has been fortunate in securing the cooperation of the Post Office Department in colecting information on the roads of the state. There are no persons who travel the roads as faithfully every day at al seasons of the year as the rural carriers and none who are better qualified to tell them. They know every rut and bad spot and every broken culvert as well as the good places.

In response to a request from Mr. W. O. Hoachiss, who has charge of Economic Geology for the state survey, the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General has sent a letter to postmasters in the stae asking them to furnish the State Survey with al the information desired about the roads along the Rural Free Delivery Routes. In a few days a list of questions will be sent to each rural free delivery carrier. The answers will furnish information that will be as detailed as could be obtained in any way in the state, and through the kindness of the Post Office Department wil cost practicaly nothing. There are about 500 Rural Free Delivery Cariers in the state and their routes aggregate some thing like 37,000 miles of roads, or about one-half the total mileage of roads in the state. By this means a fair road census of about half the road mileage of the state will be obtained at a cost of but a few dollars for postage in sending out lists of questions, while any other means that could be used for colecting the information would cost at a conservative estimate several thousand dollars. The information thus obtained, will assist in putting the Geological Survey in a position to advise as to the best methods of making roads in any part of the state.

It is of interets to note that Wisconsin is the second state in which this novel method of colecting data on roads is used. The scheme was originated and first used in Illinois by A. N. Johnson of the Ilinois Highway commission. The willingness of the Post Office Department to cooperate is evidence of their strong appreciation of the necessity of good roads for cheap and efficient rural delivery service. They are anxious to asist in any way posible in getting the rural district to keep their roads in the best posible condition.

The fact that the Post Office, whose cariers form an extremely small part of the travel over the country roads is anxious to cut expenses by having better roads for its cariers to travel, is strong evidence that the farmers themselves would save much money if the roads were improved and kept in proper shape.

KENOSHA ELOPER DIED IN QUAKE

KENOSHA, Wis., June 26.—The pathetic ending of a sensational elopement from Kenosha a year ago was brought to light when letters received in this city announced that Mrs. Frank Machacek of this city had been killed in the San Francisco earthquake. Mrs. Machacek was the wife of one of the best known foremen in the big Allen tanneries here, and deserting her husband she left the city in company with Carl Friedck, another foreman in the tannery. The couple fled with the girl to California and sometime ago Machacek got a divorce and was awarded the custody of the daughter. He started to secure the daughter when he discovered that Mrs. Machacek and the daughter were dead. Some time before the earthquake she had gone to a cheap lodging house in the stricken city and the bodies of the woman and her daughter were found under the debris. Machacek will make an effort to secure the bodies and have them brought back to Kenosha for burial. For many weeks a warrant charging Mrs. Machacek and Friedeck with a serious offense has been in the hands of the Kenosha police, but it was withdrawn this morning.

Suicide not Related to Sol. Burdick

DICKINSON, N. D., June 26.—After a desperate quarrel with her mother, Marie Olive Burdick, 15 years old, secured a quantity of strychnine and left the house. She was seen by her mother walking quickly across the prairie, and was followed. When the mother overtook the girl the latter told her that she had taken the poison and would die. Her mother half dragged and half carried her to the house, where antidotes and restoratives were administered, but they proved ineffective and the girl soon died in great agony. Other than the quarrel with ehr mother there is no known reason why the girl should have taken her life. The Burdicks live on a farm a few miles from here, having come from Wisconsin about a year ago.

Sol Burdick, county poor commissioner, said today that the family was not related to him, so far as he knew, though it might be a distant relative, as there were many Burdicks in the neighborhood of Brodhead, Wisconsin.

TOLEDO AND LA CROSSE—AND ICE.

Yesterday The Tribune called attention to the fact referred to on former occasions in these columns, that the Toledo, Ohio, ice trust was on trial for having entered into a conspiracy to control the price of ice in that city. Before the edition had gone to press there came a Scripps-McRae dispatch sayig that "J. A. Miler, R. C. Lammer, R. A. Beard, P. M. Watters and P. S. Breining, fice men comprising the ice trust, had been fined $5,000 each and sentenced to a year in states prison." The dispatch further says that the court announced if the members of the ice trust would lower the price of ice below what it was before the trust raised the price and would keep the price there until the public got their money back and then put the price up to where it was when the raise was made, he would consider a request to make a modification of the sentence.

Now, if one desired to draw an analogy between La Crosse and Toledo, one might look up an announcement published over the signatures of La Crosse ice dealers, in which by publishing the price to which they admitted having agreed to advance and maintain the price of ice in this city, they confessed complicity in a transaction like the one discussed above; and having found these signatures one might insert them in the first paragraph of this editorial in place of the names of the Toledo men who must pay a fine and serve time for doing what men advertise they are doing in La Crosse.

And having drawn this analogy with so large a hole in it that it is no analogy at all, one might consider what would best serve to fill up the hole and perfect the comparison. It most certainly would be a public official bent upon the performance of his duty.

We would have liked to have seen La Crosse the second city to go after its ice trust. We are too late; Kansas City has begun a prosecution of its ice kings. But there is no reason why La Crosse may not be the third city to put its ice trust out of existence.

THE UNION OF THE CHURCHES.

During the heated season the churches will, as usual, meet in union services instead of holding separate meetings. The number joining in the work this summer will be seven instead of six as heretofore, the Universalist church having been invited to enter the family circle.

There is something pleasingly appropriate about this plan of holding joint services. There is nothing in differences existing between the various creeds to justify a never blending endeavor. There is a unity of purpose, a singleness of belief and aspiration, that warrants a closer sympathy and a greater degree of reciprocal endeavor than has existed in the past. One God, one Heaven, one kindly purpose to elevate humanity is the aspiration of all. Immaterial differences of opinion as to matters of orthodoxy should not interfere with the growing tendency of Christians to join hands in their lofty endeavor. The increasing breadth and Christian liberality that is being displayed is a most encouraging indication of a moral and mental development, the end of which should one day be the elimination of all non-essentials and the combination of all true religionists in a single church so powerful and far reaching in its influence as to encompass the earth and reach with its rescuing hand every human habitation on the globe.

OUR CARTOON SERVICE.

The management of The Tribune does not like to brag. We do not make a practice of telling our readers what we ARE GOING TO DO. We have preferred to DO THINGS FIRST, and tell about them afterwards.

So The Tribune did announce to the people of La Crosse that it had decided to incur the expense of employing a FIRST CLASS CARTOONIST, and of publishing daily cartoons equal in conception and execution to those of the metropolitan dailies. We secured the artist and published the cartoon. We have been doing this for weeks, until now it seems certain that an appreciative public will have no question of the merit of the work. It is good work, and it has a decided value to the entire community. It furnishes our readers a sort of entertainment that no other La Crosse paper has successfully attempted to provide. Cartooning is becoming as essential to journalism as is a telegraph report or a local news force. The cartoon furnishes the most effective criticism of local affairs and conditons to be had. Nothing appeals to the reader so directly and forcefully as a timely and significant cartoon.

We propose to make this service of value to the people of this community by intelligent application of the artist's work to local business conditions, civic affairs, political campaigns, conventions, baseball, etc. Already readers have cultivated the habit of expecting and awaiting the cartoons, and we believe they have been instrumental in promoting interest in the league games. We expect that it will not be long before every newspaper reader in La Crosse will acquire a daily anxiety to know "what Callahan is going to have tonight."

"Our wanton accidents take root and grow, to vaunt themselves as laws"—as when we happen to accomplish something without advertising we vainly imagine that we may repeat the accident.

THE STATE PRESS

To J. O. Armour.

While everybody may be willing to eat his peck of dirt, he doesn't like to pay trust prices for it.—Marinette Eagle-Star.

Oshkosh Queer at Figures.

It is puzzling the best heads at figuring how all Oshkosh candidates for the various offices named managed to get a legal number of votes in that city to sign their nomination papers, conceding a population of 32,000 to the city and all of them Republicans.—Winneconne Local.

No Machine Here?

Surely the mutual admiration of Gov. Davidson and Chairman Connor cannot be called a political clique or machine, which by putting up a slate of state officers is endeavoring to thwart the will of the voters. Each is a candidate for office on his own hook and both leave the balance of the places to be filled as the voters see fit.—Green Bay Gazette.

"Common Stock" Doomed.

Over capitilization in any business is a detriment to and a burden on the general public, and when it is carried to an extreme it becomes a menace to business stability itself. That it has been carried to an extreme in this country admits no question whatever, and it is time to call a halt on it and commence to wring out some of the watered stock which has been floated for no other reason than to increase the profits of promoters and investors by squeezing the last cent possible out of the people. Sooner or later the public is sure to resent this and demand a revision of the system which makes the people the victims of a game that is little less than a plain and bare faced holdup. Congress should not, therefore delay the remedy too long.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

Teddy Didn't Know Then.

The Republicans will either have to hide their campaign book of 1902, or they will have to write a new chapter on the relation of the president to the trusts. In 1902, they devoted four pages to reprinting what Teddy had been saying about "the great captains of industry" and "the strong and forceful men upon whom the success of business operations inevitably rests." They gleefully quoted his writings and speeches to the effect that antagonism to trusts is 'wholly without warrant." In all this, they said, he was "conservative but fearless." How will they mix this sort of talk with his muck rate speech, his oil trust message, his packing house articles and the like? What a dish of muck and honey they will have to serve up this year!—Janesville Recorder.

MAN WHO DISAPPEARED IS DEAD

KAUKAUNA, Wis., June 26.—Mrs. Herman Schreiber, whose husband left home nearly two years ago for unknown parts, has just received word of his death at Port Arthur, Canada. Besides this misfortune to bear Mrs. Schreiber has been mourning the loss of both parents, a sister-in-law and a brother-in-law. She is the mother of eight children, only three of whom are grown up.

FARMERS TO KEEP FAKER IN JAIL FOR LIFE

MARQUETTE, June 26.—John Mack, "suit club" organizer, with scores of aleged victims in various parts of the upper peninsula, especially the cities of Marquette, Hancock, Calumet, Escanaba, Menominee and Ishpeming, is in a fair way to spend the remainder of his days in jail if the proposed scheme of his club members in Marquette is caried out. It cost $4 cash down to join Mack's club, which, as far as can be learned, existed only in the promotr's imagination.

The organizer was arrested recently at Hancock, in the Copper country, on complaints from Ishpeming, and folowing a few days spent in the Ishpeming jail hewas turnted over to the mercies of the men he is said to have buncoed here. The Marpuette men are taking steps to orgonize a club the purpose of which isto give the alleged swindler a long jail sentence.

Uder thelaw Mack cannot get more than sixty days for the offense charged in the complaint, as the amount alleged to have been attained under false pretences is less than the statutory requirement for grand larceny. The plan is to get the "members" together, swear to complaints in each ca,se and as fast as Mack completes one sentence to place him on trial for another. If this plan is carried out as outlined Mack will be in his dotage before the last case comes up, as he has enough alleged victims here to keep him in court the rest of his natural lifetime.

It is related that one of Mack's club members, a Marquette man, who gave him a $5 banknote in exchange for a card bearing a receipt for $4, received in change $1 that was counterfeit.

The suit club man is said to hail from Milwaukee, and to have been in trouble at Green Bay before invading Northern Michigan.

JUST LIFE

A Sidelight.

A few days ago a stranger came into the office.

He fumbled with his hat. His bearing was that of a man conscious that life had been a failure.

Hesitating and timid he inquired for the editor.

His manner was so humble as to excite pity.

"I just wanted to see you," he said in a halting, stumbling way, "and find out if you wouldn't print my picture. I—I—could give you a lot of nice, littue stories of the early days."

"You probably know me," as his dim eyes lighted up for an instant. "All the farmers know me. You know I used to be the fastest binder in the county." And his haunted, dull eyes looked askance.

The editor said that he had heard of him often, though he had not.

"I would like to have you print my picture, if you could," he continued, hesitatingly, toying the while with his rusty hat. "It would make a nice little piece for your paper, and all the farmers know me, and they woud be pleased. And then—"

A far away look came into his eyes. He seemed gazing past the walls, back through the fleeting years to the days of his prime, and his eyes moistened a bit as the panorama of his life flitted before him.

"And then," he continued, slowly and almost apologetically, "I kind of thought it would be nice for my children to have. I—I—I never did much but I was the fastest binder in La Crosse county when they harvested by hand."

And then for an instant the armor men wear about their hearts was off; and in that brief moment one could see the hopes, the disappointments, the despair of a human heart through the rough garb of a man who had failed—who knew he had failed to realize his early ambitions.

For another wordless moment he seemed swallowed up by the disappointment of it all.

"It would be a nice item for your paper," he continued, remaining humbly standing before the desk. "And it would be something for my children to keep when I'm gone. Yes, all the farmers know me, and like me. Why just the other day I was up in Salem and one of the men I used to work for met me, and he grabbed my hand and said, 'well, if here ain't old Gene.' He said I was the fastest binder in the county and that he could remember when I could do more work than any two men. If you think you could print it I will get my picture taken. I haven't had one taken for twenty years."

"Why certainly. We will be glad to print the story with your picture. It will be a fine item. You get the picture and bring it down and I will write it up nicely for you.

"I kind of thought," he went on pathetically, "you could fix my picture with a rake in my hand, or something like that. My—children—"

"Sure," with an effort to be cheerful. "You bring me the picture and I'll fix it up for you."

It was worth the price of fifty halftone cuts to see the look that lighted up the roughened face.

"I'll be willing to pay you for it, for I—"

"Never mind that. It won't cost you a cent. Just bring down the picture and we'll fix it."

Then he went out. He said he would bring the picture in a few days. He will not.

Yesterday he tied his last knot about a bundle of despair.

THE VILLAINY OF A TRUST.

An example of the contemptible methods employed in the baking powder trust to throttle legitimate competition has recently been shown in the daily press. The Trust has caused to be printed in many daily papers a series of misleading articles attacking the baking powders that are fast driving the high priced Trust powders out of the market. These Trust articles apear as pure news reading matter and are placed among items of news to deceive the public into thinking the articles are the expresions of the editor. They are nothing but paid advertisements. It is only by such deception and chicanery that the Trust san hoodwink the people into paying forty-five to fifty cents a pound for baking powder. The best baking powder in the world can be made to retail at twenty-five cents a pound, but by these exhorbitant prices the Trust are able to pay big annual dividends on the watered stock of their corporation.

The trust articles state that premiums are given with Calumet Baking Powder. This is branded as a malicious lie by the Calumet Baking Powder company. No premiums are needed to sell Calumet. Such contemptible methods are what might be expected from a trust whose principal stockholder was under indictment in Missouri for bribing members of the legislature to keep on the statute books a law designed to give the trust a monopoly of the baking powder business of that state. The Baking Powder Trust's so-called "legislative agent" is still a fugitive from justice, living in a foreign country, and dares not return to the United States.

These attacks cannot injure Calumet Baking Powder because housewives know its true merits. The materials used are selected with the greatest care and submitted to a rigid analysis; then by the use of modern chemical methods so accurately proportioned and perfectly mixed that [illegible] neutralization occurs. Thereforet, food prepared with Calumet Baking Powder does not contain Rochelle Salts, Alum, Lime and Amonia; and to go further, the Calumet Baking Powder Company back up their statements with an offer to pay One Thousand Dollars to the Trust or anyone else if any injurious substance is found in food prepared with Calumet. Still further Calumet Paking Powder complies with the pure food laws of this and all other states. It can and has been proven that food prepared with the Trust Powders, Royal, Dr. Price's and Cleveland's contain Rochelle salts, the active ingredient of a Seidlitz powder. If you want to take Rochelle Salts or a Seidlitz powder, do it under the instructions of a physician, but do not take it in your food, as you will if you eat food prepared with the straight cream of tartar Trust powders.

CITY MAY GET $2.25 FROM STATE FOR EVERY PUPIL

Census Enumerator W. W. Scott to Begin Counting Children's Noses Next Saturday

W. W. Scott on June 30 commences enumerating the number of children and young men and women who attend the public schools. Everyone who is interested in the welfare of the schools and their children's education should make it their duty to answer all questions concerning their children.

Every student counted will draw at least $2 and maybe $2.25 for the city from the state.

It is therefore important that each child in La Crosse attending the public schools should be counted.

REV. WM. TOELLER CELEBRATES HIS FIRST MASS

After being ordained to the priesthood on June 9th, at Columbus, Ohio, the Rev. Wm. Toeller celebrated his first mass at St. Joseph cathedral Sunday morning befor a large assemblage. Rev. Louis Kaluza delivered a very apropriate sermon for the occasion. The priests who assisted were Rev. 'Sluyther, Beyer, Rapp, Stenz and laymen Chas. Fries. After the services they went to the school hall where an elaborate dinner was awaiting them. During the afternoon an entertainment was given which was attended by the church members and friends of Rev. Toeller, at the closing of the exercises Rev. G. Sluyter presented the young priest a beautiful gold chalice which was given by Rev. Sluyter and the members St. Aloysius' young men's society. The newly ordained priest is a brother of Jno. C. Toeller, manager of the Park store.

City Must Fix Wagon Bridge

The bridge committee of the common council inspected the wagon bridge yesterday and found it to be badly in need of repairs.

The bridge is not built according to the government rules which say that the ihdewalks shall not project over the pier.

A short time ago the government boat Colonel Mackenzie ran into the bridge damaging both the boat and the pier. The officers of the Mackenzie notified Captain Thompson, who in turn notified the city of La Crosse.

Alderman Grover, chairman of the bridge committee called the council's attention to the repairs needed on the bridge, at the last meeting.

WOMEN SINGERS TO RIDE IN AUTOS

The women attending the Sangerfest here will be given an auto ride about the city. This was decided upon at a meeting of the central commitee last night. Ole Elbertson was chosen chairman of the committee to take charge of this event.

The parade will be held on the afternoon of Friday, July 6, the commitee in charge being as follows: Theo. Dahl, Fred Ruplin and Andrew Thompson.

"To my way of thinking," said Sherlock Holmes impressively, "every man should dress as well as his income will permit. If you look successful more success is apt to be your portion. If you look shabby you are apt to be treated shabbily, nine cases out of ten. And to dress well is no burden in these days of perfected ready-for-service clothes."

Let Us Have an Understanding

An argument between two persons is entirely useless when each has his or her own set purpose or views. Intelligent people rarely permit their convictions to be so firm as not to be changed by better ones. The great Emerson declared that he reserved the right to change his mind whenever he found it desirable. It is even so with clothes--the man who sets his mind on any particular style and leaves it there, needs something to move him beside argument. The progressive man changes his ideas as the world progresses--he needs no pulling or pushing. Progressive men change their ideas of fashion even as the world invites them to. This store wishes to convey new and progressive ideas about clothes as fast as the world demands it. Come, you slow fellows, get in the wagon with us! We want to see you always well dressed. A KAUFMAN GARMENT will do it--they are always up-to-the-minute.

EXCITEMENT OVER THEFT OF DOG OF MR. MAGEE

Mr. Magee, who values the dog very highly, has kept it in a wire kennel, but turned it out for exercise this forenoon. Shortly afterwards the dog was missed, and neighbors told of aving seen a young man coax it some distance from the house, and attaching a string to its collar, lead it away.

On being notified, Mr. Magee left his work and informed the police, while at the same time neighbors were attempting to find some clue to identify the person who took the dog.

Probably alarmed by the stir caused by the affair, the fellow released the dog, which was later recognized by a grocer who delivers goods at the Magee house, and who hastened to take the dog home. Mr. Magee says that if he can find who led the dog away he wil prosecute him.

KNOWS NOW.

A physician speaks of his own experience:

"I had used coffee for years and really did not exactly believe it was injuring me although I had palpitation of the heart every day.

"Finally one day a severe and almost fatal attack of heart trouble frightened me and I gave up both tea and coffee, using Postum instead and since that time I have had absolutely no heart palpitation except on one or two occasions when I tried a small quantity of coffee which caused severe irritation and proved to me I must let it alone.

"When we began using Postum it seemed weak—that was because we did not make it according to directions—but now we put a little bit of butter in the pot when boiling and allow the Postum to boil full 15 minutes which gives it the proper rich flavor and the deep brown color.

"I have advised a great many of my friends and patients to leave off coffee and drink Postum, in fact I daily give this advice." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Many thousands of physicians use Postum in place of tea and coffee in their own homes and prescribe it to patients. "There's a reason."

Scenes Taken From the Beautiful Pastoral Playlet, "Johnatahn's Courtship," at the Bijou This Week

The new bill at the Bijou this week had a very auspicious opening yesterday in spite of the threatening weather early in the evening. The feature act of this week's grand bill can ge justly termed the best act ever offered to local theatergoers and Cowles and Alden deserve much praise for their beautiful playlet. Seldom have people the chance to view such sterling actors. Mr. Cowles as Jonathan Craddock does a bit of character work that makes his auditors forget that it is a portrayal of the bashful man and gives one the impression that they are watching a bashful young man way up York state so true is his impersonation to life. Miss Alden as Prudence Prim is true to life in her work and possesses a good, clear voice and perfect enunciation and it is safe to say her equal has never been seen on local stages. The playlet they produce is brimfull of pathos and comedy and was roundly applauded at each performance yesterday. The Wiley Ferris company presents a novelty skit that is head and shoulders over anything of its kind so far shown at htis house. Master Wiley has a very fine voice that he knows how to handle and is not slow on his acrobatic stunts by any means. With his father he does some very difficult stunts in the posturing line. Mr. Ferris in his character work and posturing shows he has reduced this line of work to a science. The act was well and deservedly applauded each performance. Brownie and Brownie have a sketch centered around the character of a race track tout. The act suffered from the fact that local theatergoers are not very familiar with a character such as presented. They sing well together and the finish was very much appreciated. Jack O'Toole sang "When the Golden Sunset Fades Beyond the Hills" in his characteristic good manner. The moving pictures are good. "The Law of Pardon" tells a story that brings tears to the eyes of the most hardened and must be seen to be appreciated. "Skiddoo—23" is a scream. The Printers' union has arranged with Manager Al Schuberg for a printers' night next week in honor of their brother printer, Mr. La Vallee of the six La Vallees, local acrobats who are the features of next week's bill.

SENSATIONAL ELOPEMENT OF A GIRL WITH FIANCEE

CENTRALIA, Ill., June 26.—Grace Monroe, the 18-year old daughter of Rev. Alexander Monroe, who was kidnapped by her father and James Shanklin and forcibly removed from her home in Chicago Lawn last Tuesday in order to prevent her marriage to William Lieferman, was rescued by her sweetheart in a manner as sensational as her abduction.

When the girl was removed from her home she was brought to this city and afterward taken to a farm in a secluded spot and kept under surveillance, no one in tsis city knowing where she had been taken, except young Shanklin and he persistently denied knowledge of her whereabouts.

Learn of Hiding Place.

Learning from the newspaper reports that her fiance was in the neighborhood, Lieferman and Frank Parks, a friend came here Friday afternoon, and before dark had located the girl at the home of a farmer named Jett, a friend of the Monroe family. No opportunity was presented to communicate with Miss Monroe and they deferred action until next day.

The young men repaired to the neighborhood of the Jett farm yesterday morning and notwithstanding a heavy downpour of rain, lurked near in the hopes of finding a way to apprise the girl of their presence. Finally they secured the services of a neighbor, who, taking advantage of his acquaintance with the Jett family, called at the house. When the opportunity was presented he informed Miss Monroe that her sweetheart was in the neighborhood and that a carirage would be in waiting behind the barn as soon as darkness fell.

Await Girl in Dark.

In the meantime Lieferman and Sparks and their ally awaited the appointed time. As soon as it became dark enough and all was quiet around the farmhouse, Lieferman stationed his buggy, as had been promised and stood in readiness for the coming of his fiancee.

After the other members of the household, about ten in number, had retired, Miss Monroe emerged from the house bareheaded and clad in a wrapper and house slippers. She was assisted in the buggy by Lieferman and all haste was made to this city, the second buggy folowing to give a false trail in case of pursuit.

The eloping party arrived at the railroad station a few minutes before the fast train for Chicago was due. They were covered with mud from their rapid drive over the rain-soaked roads. Miss Monroe was wearing Lieferman's coat and attracted much attention from the few passengers at the station at the time. They bought tickets for Chicago and boarded the train.

Cast Off by Father.

James Shanklin, the young dentist who assisted Rev. Mr. Monroe in kidnaping his daughter, did not learn of the rescue until this morning. He asserts that Mr. Monroe had heard of the appearance of Lieferman and his friend in the neighborhood, and after a stormy interview with his daughter had finally given his permission for her to do as she pleased, but told her that if she married Lieferman she need never look to him for aid.

INNOCENT BYSTANDER IS SLAIN IN A STREET FUED

Chicago, June 26.—A feud in the Austrian colony at Thornton, Ill., resulted yesterday in a fight which waged up and down the main street of the town for an hour and ended in the murder of one man and the injury of many others.

The Thornton police had a hard time saving the murderer from lynching. There were more prisoners in the town jail last night than there have been at any time for years.

Peter Hendricks, a laborer on the town roadway, was the innocent victim of the race war. The man who shot him gave the name of John Stienucz, a laborer in the stone quarry of the Downell Improvement company. Edward Goening, night watchman in the quarry works, was probably fatally injured.

The fight started in the saloon of Daniel Zedarach, headquarters of the Austrians employed in the stone works. There had been strife among these men and an outbreak was expected by the town authorities.

Goening, it is said, started the immediate trouble by trying to break up a celebration which the Austrians were having in the saloon.

The men were seated in crowds around the tables, drinking and singing. The entrance of Goening was the signal for an uprising. Bottles cracked over heads and knives were drawn. The fighters surged into the back yard of the saloon and then spread into the street. Stienucz secured a revolver and led a small band of men down the main street.

Crowds of people had gathered to learn the cause of the uproar and Stienucz began shooting at them. Hendricks was in the front rank of the spectators and fell dead at the first volley.

This murder so enraged the crowd that an immediate attempt was made to lynch Stienucz. He was surrounded and beaten on the head with beer bottles. When the police rescued him he was unconscious. He and four of the rioters were locked up.

The rioting continued in scattered places for hours after the murder, and more trouble is expected. Mayor F. F. Flanagan made a speech to the people after the murderer had been locked up, urging them to go to their homes.

Appleton Endorses Bryan

APPLETON, Wis., June 26.—Democrats in county convention here indorsed the candidacy of William Jennings Bryan for president of the United States and because there was a difference of sentiment for those whose names have been mentioned for the gubernatorial race no one was mentioned in the resolutions, which are as follows:

"1. We believe in thorough revision of the tariff and that all articles manufactured by trusts be put on the free list. (2) We heartily favor the nomination of W. J. Bryan for president of the United States and pledge him our unanimous support. (3) We admire the courage and ability of United States Senator B. R. Tillman in his fight for the people's interests of his country."

The followng sixteen delegates were chosen to attend the state convention to be held at Milwaukee next Wednesday: D. J. Ryan, Harry Mollen, J. F. Rooney, J. E. Verstegen, C. Ludwig, J. Chopin, John Coppes, Hugh Mulholland, D. Hammel, F. Peterson, Dan Boyle, G. Keller, A. Danielson, C. Roemer, L. Waters and E. Otto.

Explosive in a Runaway

KNIGHTSTOWN, Ind., June 26.—Most of the farmers living around these parts took to the woods to escape being blown to fragments while along the road leading north from this city there dashed a driverless runaway team pulling a wagon with enough nitroglycerin on board to tear up most of the country had it exploded. Ahead of the runaway galloped John Bowman, who had been warned by telephone of the approach of destruction in tin cans, doing the Paul Revere act in warning the people of their danger. Wallace Apple did not hear the warning, however. Seeing the team in full flight he ran out and stopped it. Then, for the first time, he noticed the warning sign on the wagon and dropped to the ground limp with fright. No one knows why the nitroglycerin did not explode.

The boy stood on the burning deck;
'Twas too hot altogether.
Said the burning lad, "I wish I had
Been made of old Red Feather,
For then I wouldn't care a slam
For this dogoned hot weather.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

The undersigned board of public works of the city of La Crosse will receive sealed proposals at their office in the city hall building in said city until 2 o'clock p. m., the 29th day of June, 1906, for the furnishing of all materials and doing all work to fully complete in every detail, according to plans and specifications now on file in the office of said board of public works.

For artesian water extension on Caledonia street to connect to present well at St. James and Caledonia streets and extend to Windsor street.

All material to be furnished and all work to be done under the direction and supervision and to the satisfaction and acceptance of the board of public works aforesaid. Said work to commence forthwith and to be fully completed on or before July 20th, 1906, shall make same in conformity with the form of proposal mentioned in the specifications for said work.

All proposals shall be sealed and directed to said board of public works. Said bidder shall file a bond to the city of La Crosse in the sum of one hundred ($100) dollars, surety company bonds preferable. The bond shall be signed by the bidder and two responsible sureties, who shall each make affidavit that he is the owner of real estate in the county of La Crosse free from incumbrances and subject to execution, of a cash value equal to the sum of one hundred ($100) dollars, conditioned that said bidder will enter into contract and a new bond with good and sufficient sureties within ten days after the awarding of said contract, conditioned that he will execute and fully perform his contract according to his said proposal and specifications therefore, in case said contract is awarded to him.

No bond will be required of any bidder who at the time he offers his proposal, shall deposit with the board of public works aforesaid a certified check in the sum of fifty ($50) dollars under an agreement that the same shall be returned to him in case the contract is not awarded to such bidder or in case he makes no default in entering into contracts with satisfactory bonds and sureties within ten days after the awarding of said contract, if his bid is accepted.

If the contractor fails to complete his said contract within the time specified in said contract he shall pay to the city of La Crosse the sum of five ($5) dollars per day for each and every day said contract remains incompleted after the time specified in said contract.

Dated this 21st day of June, 1906.

H. J. BECKWITH, ARTHUR J. ROBERGE, GEO. FALK, Commissioners of Public Works.

STATE GOLF MEET OPENS AT JANESVILLE TODAY

JANESVILLE, Wis., June 26.—Golfers for the state golf tournament which opened today, have arrived. There are fifty entries from outside and from twenty to twenty-five are local. It is expected that there will be eighty in the tournament for the state championship, which will be the largest ever held in the state.

One of the features of the tournament is the ladies' championship series, which is scheduled for Friday. This is the first tournament of its kind ever held in Wisconsin. There are entries from all over the state.

Green Bay has representatives here to ask for admission to the state association. This association is composed of clubs in Oshkosh, Appleton, Eau Claire, La Crosse, Madison, Kenosha, the three Milwaukee clubs, Janesville and Green Lake. Joseph De Moth, Hamilton Vose and Dr. White of Milwaukee are among the golfers of prominence already here.

One of the features of the week will be a tournament for golfers over 50 years of age. In this class is H. O. Fairchild of Green Bay, who is already in the city.

William Yule of Kenosha, who won the championship last year at La Crosse, will not be here. Owing to the fact that he graduates from Yale university this year, he will not participate in the tournament.

Roasted Alive Under Auto

LOS ANGELES, June 26.—Mrs. James J. Cordori, 28 years old, the wife of a local business man, was roasted to death in an automobile accident. John Henderson of Pasadena, a chauffeur, was so badly burned that he cannot live, and Mrs. Ella May Morris, an artist of Pueblo, was slightly burned and bruised. The auto was being driven at the rate of sixty miles an hour in Colorado street, when it was overturned. The crash caused the engine to explode and the machine was burned. Mr. Cordori and C. White, who also were in the machine, escaped practically uninjured.

LABOR LEADER ADVISES DEFEAT OF FOES OF LABOR

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Gompers has published in the American Federationist an appeal to the wage earners to defeat at the polls such candidates for reelection to congress as have shown unfriendliness to the interests of organized labor. He said in part:

"The wage earners should defeat those who have been hostile or indifferent to the demands of labor wherever possible and labor should elect its own men."

BOWL OF MILK AND HUNK OF BREAD FOR "TEDDY"

WASHINGTON, June 26.—President Roosevelt wants everybody in the United States to understand that the food at the White House is plain but wholesome, nothing more. He read in a Washington paper to-day a story about the elaborate menus declared to be in order three times a day at the White House. Straight away he sent for a reporter of this paper and made a stronge denial that he and his family had anything to eat so much better than the average American family.

"Why for lunch he said," he declared, "I sometimes have a bowl of milk and a hunk of bread and the children get cold roast beef."

The president said that the elaborate breakfast menu described was too good to be true. It was more often reduced to boiled egs and bread.

The president was not angered by story, but rather some what amused. He made no denial of the statement that the children "all know how to use there knives and forks, bow there heads while grace is said and keep their elbows off the the table."

NORMAL PROFESSOR DROWNED AT CHIPPEWA

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., June 26.—Prof. A. H. Fletcher of the River Falls normal school was drowned Saturday in the Chippewa river at Holcombe. He was fishing from a boat and the boat capsized. A companion of Prof. Fletcher escaped death.

Circus Employe Drowned.

BRAINERD, Minn., June 26.—Henry Hoyt of Baraboo, Wis., for six years a teamster with the Gollmar Brothers' circus, was drowned in the Mississippi river here while bathing. The body has not been found. The river is being dragged and dynamited.

CIRCUS EMPLOYEES SEND PARENTS OF BOY $50

MADISON, Wis., June 26.—The parents of Harry Tear, the young Madison boy who was killed by a train while trying to follow the Hagenbeck circus, have received $50, which was contributed by the employes of the circus. The money was sent by Detective R. Lee Killian of the Hagenbeck show to Chief of Police Baker with the request that it be turned over to the stricken relatives with the sincere sympathy of the contributors. Young Tear was killed by falling from a train carrying part of the Hagenbeck circus from Madison to Janesville a week ago.

GETS APPOINTMENT WHEN LEG IS LONGER

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 26—kenJ. Walter Wilde, who had his leg rebroken and made longer so he could enter West Point, has recovered. The operation was successful.

RAINS GREEN FROGS

ALTON, Ill., June 26.—A heavy rainstorm accompanied by a gale, swept over Alton and a deluge of little green frogs was precipitated. They fell so plentifully that thousands were hopping around the streets. Pedestrians and vehicles crushed them by hundreds, so thickly were the streets strewn. It is believed the frogs were scooped up from the marshy lowlands by the heavy wind.

TOO MANY JOHNSONS IN TOPEKA, KAS.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 26.—The postmaster at Lindsborg wil ask the department for extra clerks because of the prevailance of families named Johnson, Anderson Peterson and Swenson which receive mail. There are 249 Johnsons, 134 Andersons, 87 Swensons, 99 Petersons and numerous Olsons. Their children tie up the office by asking: "Any mail for Anderson?" The question "which Anderson" or "which Johnson" must be put to every child inquirer, and this, in the opinion of the postmaster, makes necessary the servise of extra clerks.

LET ROLL GO RATHER THAN MISS HIS GOOD TIME

MANITOWOC, Wis., June 26.—Rather than miss his train to Brillion, where he intended to take in the firemen's tournament, John Sedlacek, a Larabee farmer, allowed himself to be robbed of a roll of bills here today, containing $160. Sedlacek had purchased a ticket and was standing on the depot platform when just as he was about to board the train as it started to pull out he felt a hand reach into his inner vest pocket and saw the fat roll o into the possession of a stranger. The farmer gave chase, but let the thief go rather than miss his train.

The board of public works will send out, within the next few days, notices to all the property owners whose boulevards are higher than the sidewalks.

Interesting to Asthma Sufferers.

Daniel Bante of Otterville, Iowa, writes: "I have had asthma for three or four years and have tried about all the cough and asthma cures in the market and have received treatment from physicians in New York and other cities, but got very little benefit until I tried Foley's Honey and Tar which gave me immediate relief and I will never be without it in my house. I sincerely recommend it to all." Sold by O. T. Erhart.

ARE YOU THINKING OF STARTING A HOME?

Have you hesitated on account of the cost? Would you make the start if you had the price? Do you know we are looking for just such men as you, young men, who are wage earners; who are eager to settle down and make a start for themselves. "We will help you to Furnish the Home." It will surprise you how easily it can be done. Come in and let's get acquainted. Some people think because we advertise "Your Credit is Good," that they have to pay interest, or an extra price for the accommodation. Let us explain our method of Credit, and you will see why you don't.
